

Dr. Johnson Stanley

Dr. Johnson Stanley is the CEO & Director of Nutrihub, a technology business incubator exclusively focused on millets and hosted at ICAR–Indian Institute of Millets Research (ICAR–IIMR), Hyderabad. He is also a Principal Scientist in Agricultural Entomology at ICAR–IIMR.

He completed his postgraduate and doctoral studies at Tamil Nadu Agricultural University (TNAU) and began his career as a Scientist at ICAR–Vivekananda Parvatiya Krishi Anusandhan Sansthan, Almora, Uttarakhand, where he served for 12 years before joining ICAR–IIMR, Hyderabad.

Dr. Stanley has published 50+ national and international research articles and 4 books and has received several awards and recognitions. He is a Fellow of the Royal Entomological Society, London, Entomological Society of India and Plant Protection Association of India, and an Associate of the National Academy of Agricultural Sciences. He has also completed a PG Diploma in Intellectual Property Rights.

At ICAR–IIMR, he is the Officer-in-Charge for Intellectual Property and Technology Management, overseeing intellectual property protection, commercialization and technology transfer. He also serves as the Nodal Officer for institutional collaborations with academia and public and private organizations.